

Doyle film

12/2/79

Dear Earl,

Thanks for the explanations in your 11/27 in which you say you are not ~~spying~~ doing a story on the unknown who was with Oswald in his M.O. operations. Your cautions are understandable. However, there are other factors, other accounts of a third man with Oswald - the reason I have this file titled "Third Man" and that it is one of my older files.

Others, including Dean Andrews, described the man.

I'm not agguing. I'm informing you for the future.

The Bringuier testimony cannot relate to the earlier picketing of the Wasp and the prints on those flyers not Oswald's, or to the later ITM picketing.

The FBI and the Commission ignored most of this. I learned from a number of people, particularly Mrs. Elise Cerniglia, then head of Catholic Cuban Relief in M.O., that Oswald's leafletting was much more extensive. There was hardly a day on which she did not get complaints from Cubans who saw him.

Most of this was in that small section of Canal Street.

Please don't forget to get the Doyle film back to me, preferably insured in the event it is lost.

One of the things I'm working on that may interest you, particularly because of the acoustical tape and the noises the sanctimonious Blakey is making, has to do with other shooting, reported but not necessarily actual. With all the withholding from me I can't be certain.

The impact reported by Aldredge was tested. I've not gotten the results. Trying.

A bullet was found near where Tague was hit. Later and by a road crew.

Other bullets were found, one behind the picket fence.

Another in a roof on Stemmons.

I recall a .303 and a .45 revolver bullet.

Best wishes,
